How we do football in the wettest city.

Something I noticed that brought the people of Preston together was football and with Preston being the wettest city in England I wanted to bring an element of this through my work so I experimented having football chants printed on umbrellas to have with you on the football grounds.

Where in the North are you based?

I am a Northerner, based in the sunny city of Preston.

What does living in the North mean to you?

Living in the North means a lot to me, it's essentially who I am and something to be very proud of. I love my home city, Preston and couldn't imagine living anywhere else.

What inspires you?

I am often inspired by all sorts of things around me but one thing I've gotten to love recently is typography, I love how you can express so much with just simple letter forms.
